LONDON LIFE.
SHOEBLACK AT A TUBE STATION.

LL10233

TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE. POSTKARTE.

Shoeblack at a Tube Station. The English shoeblack is not as up-to-date as the American; he has no chair for his client, but his brushes are nimble, his blacking or brown paste is always ready, and his charge (twopence) is modest enough. "Shine your boots, Sir?" is the war-cry of the tribe.

(FOR ADDRESS ONLY.)

LONDON LIFE. Series III. "OILETTE" [Regr.] Postcard 9172

Raphael Tuck & Sons' ART PUBLISHERS TO THEIR MAJESTIES THE KING & QUEEN

Printed in England.